

AIBC National Conference (AIBC22)

Join us in Darwin and meet with Australian and Indonesian businesses that are driving real change in how and where they engage.

Jennifer Mathews
AIBC National President

It is my pleasure to announce that, as Australia's peak business council for promoting trade and investment between Australia and Indonesia, the AIBC will be holding its 2022 National Conference in Darwin on 2 - 4 November 2022.

As the Australian and Indonesian economies emerge from the challenges of COVID-19, and as Indonesia serves its term as President of the G20 and B20, there is a strong and renewed focus on how we can partner together and emerge stronger than before. Australian and Indonesian businesses are driving real change in how and where they engage.

The theme of this year's National Conference is: "Partnering for Growth – Stronger, Together" with a focus on building trade and investment partnerships across priority industry sectors for Australia and Indonesia, including healthcare; education and training; food and agriculture; digital technology; tourism, the creative industries sector and the energy transition.

It will be the first hybrid conference the AIBC has undertaken, attracting delegates in both face-to-face and online conversation. View the Conference Program and don't miss your opportunity to share ideas with peers and form new business relationships through a range of interactive sessions.

I look forward to meeting you in Darwin.
